SUBMARINES MAY BE EXPECTED.

Our east coast could be blockaded by ten submarines of the type of the U-53 which sailed along the Atlantic coast. Such is the statement of Simon Lake, pioneer builder of submarines. He may be right. The submarine has vast possibilities as a destroyer of merchant shipping.

The U-53 is 214 feet long, and has a cruising radius of 10,000 miles on the surface, with a speed of 18 knots. The vessel when it appeared at Newport had consumed one-third of its food supplies and oil. The ship was equipped with four 18-inch torpedo tubes, fore and aft, and had 10 torpedoes with a range of a little over a mile, and two 4-inch guns. With six-cylinder, four-cycle Diesel, 1200 horsepower was developed. An undersea craft of such formidable proportions should be a terror of the sea.

It is our opinion the U-53 is coming back, and on its return will be accompanied by half a dozen submarines of equal power and the Deutschland as a supply ship.

When this nest of submarines appear, there will be consternation among shipping on the Atlantic coast. The submarines can be looked for prior to election.

INTERMOUNTAIN COUNTRY IS PROSPEROUS.

A few nights ago, Senator Beveridge, in a speech in Indiana, said prosperity was spotted; that in the east and middle west there was prosperity, but in the intermountain region and on the Pacific coast business was not good.

This is a slam on the west which we resent. The Pacific coast is highly prosperous, except southern California where stringency is a chronic condition.

Here in the mountains prosperity is without a parallel. Senator Beveridge must know that the western states are highly prosperous. He knows sheep, wool, and cattle are higher than ever before in the history of the country. He also must know that lead, copper, zinc and antimony are quoted at figures far beyond the average of prices in ten years.

Hay, wheat, beets and everything raised on the farm are at top prices. Inasmuch as this region produces all those articles in large quantities, when will it be prosperous, if not today?

As a matter of fact the west never before enjoyed the good times that now prevail.

WHEAT TO CONTINUE TO BE HIGH.

Sow heavily to wheat this fall and next year. This is the advice given to farmers by a student of history: "In commercial lines, war brings financial benefits to neutrals. It cannot be otherwise, because neutrals must furnish supplies to belligerents. In the present war, the United States has gained already this year a billion-dollar trade balance in its favor. The public mind associates munitions at once with this item, but they are only a part, for the farmer has become a great gainer as a result of the war. Which suggests a practical thought to the farmers of the north-west. The history of wars shows that wheat has always sold higher after the close of a war than during it. Following the war of the revolution, wheat rose from 98 cents at the close of the war to $3 a bushel three years later. The Napoleonic wars closed in 1815 with wheat at $1.75 a bushel. The next two years it went to $2.85. In 1861, wheat was 62 cents. It reached $2.28 in 1864 and $2.85 in 1867, the same price as in 1817. With this the record of history, it would seem to be the wise thing for farmers to arrange to sow heavily to wheat the next three years. There are exceptions to all rules, but there is no reason to expect abnormally low prices, even with Russia shipping after the war. It will take time to organize shipping after the war."

WHEN THE WOMEN GO A-GUNNING.

Ogden today is invaded by the leaders of the Woman's Party. The campaigners are among the most talented women political workers in the United States. They come in the name of woman suffrage, but they are part of the most effective machinery moving for the election of Chas. E. Hughes, and they openly admit that their purpose is to roll up such a vote of protest against Mr. Wilson that no president at any future time will dare do other than yield to their demands.

This is legislation by intimidation, and we call the attention of Mr. Hughes to this breach of good government and request that he speak of this along with his "legislation without deliberation."

SUBMERGED IN CITY LIFE.

What city life will do to a very good man is brought out in the following from an eastern writer:

"A federal judge from Florida, sitting temporarily on the federal bench in New York, has just made some comments on social conditions there that ought to attract attention and just as surely will not. In passing sentence upon some smugglers, the judge remarked that from what he had seen and heard during his residence in New York, he thought that

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY. People who are overburdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from A. R. McIntyre Drug Company or any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, footstep become lighter, your work seems easier and lighter, and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial, there is nothing better.

In 10 years he "might almost be tempted to beat Uncle Sam himself." On all sides the hold-up game and schemes for beating somebody is so openly and so boldly operated that he can not be severe in blaming men who go wrong. The invitation is so strong to "beat." If that is the effect of New York life—and largely the existence in all great cities—upon the mind of an intelligent, educated man of strong moral fiber, what must be the results when the force of the conditions of "civilization" strike the less intelligent man whose moral structure is not so wind-tight? This may have been the question in the mind of the Florida judge when he imposed a comparatively light sentence upon the smugglers. Life in great cities where the economic conditions have intensified the strife does tend to just that mental condition, that moral obtuseness the Florida high-grade ethical life in the great cities is not impossible, perhaps, but incompleteness is possible only to the few whose protection for their moral ideals is the best. Without protection the ordinary man is bound in time to be more or less submerged and compelled to make a sacrifice either of his material progress or his ideals.

THREE THOUSAND ARE NOT REGISTERED.

At present the indications are not less than 3,000 citizens of Ogden will fail to register for this presidential election.

While women are rushing over the country, proclaiming their slavery because they are denied suffrage, approximately 1,500 women in Ogden care so little for the right as to voluntarily disfranchise themselves by failing to register, and 1,500 men are doing likewise.

The right of suffrage should carry some responsibility. Those who repeatedly fail to register should be deprived of suffrage until they appeared before some tribunal to express regret and promise to take a deeper interest in affairs of government.

ORGANIZED PLAY AND WORK.

An appeal for recreation and the playground comes from Grand Rapids, where the Recreation Congress was held at the beginning of this month. We quote from the proceedings:

"Future wars, we hope, will be fought, not from trenches, but on football fields," said a speaker. This speaker described the internationalizing, civilizing influence of American games in China, India, the Philippines, South America and among five million dispirited men in the prison war camps of Europe. The congress discussed athletics, games and play as the best means of building character and efficiency—whether for peace or for war. Any one who thinks of "play" as merely child-like, soft, amusing, unimportant, would have been surprised at the hundreds of powerful, earnest men and women assembled at Grand Rapids, intent upon the invigoration of American life through wholesome use of leisure hours of all the people.

Community centers in the public schools were emphasized with their varied activities—dramatics, games, civic discussions, music, library centers, dancing, sometimes pool tables, always clubs, classes and serious study groups.

"What right have we to hold a Recreation Congress?" asked one speaker, "when Europe is aflame, when America is struggling through political, economic, social changes of grave moment? Is Recreation statesman-like? Is it one of the great socializing forces of the day? Can play be a nation-builder?"

One answer suggested at the Congress was that the recreation movement represents the greatest unworked mine of power in every community. Four million hours of leisure every week in Grand Rapids; three billion leisure hours weekly in the United States. Any great advances in civilization must be developed out of this margin, this slack, this unworked mine. Recreation changes leisure hours from liabilities to assets.

For the invigoration of American life this Congress united the advocates and the opponents of military training. Nine-tenths of military training nowadays is trench digging, outdoor life, obedience, hardihood, courage. These essentials are best developed, not by gun drill, but by games, athletics, physical education. Wellington said, "The battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton and Harrow."

"What delays us?" asked one speaker. "Provincialism," was the answer. "America does not yet exist as a unified ideal. A tragic war would rouse us into genuine nationalism. Disasters like that at San Francisco show how great groups of people may be lifted out of narrowness into idealism and fraternal action. But, ordinarily, an American is only for his own

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS. USE SALTS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which moves the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

nearby community. He may contribute to playgrounds at home, but not to a national government, not to the up-building of boys and girls outside his own narrow range of vision."

"To re-create America, playleaders must have such vision, such broad, deep, religious fervor as will lead into united action, in every community, all the wets and dries; the Protestants, Catholics, Lutherans, Jews and Gentiles; all school, park and city forces; the politicians and idealists; and all the fifty-seven varieties of common humanity."

In Warden Osborne's work, in transforming Sing Sing prison and its inmates, in reducing from sixty-five to three per cent the number of recidivists, Recreation was shown to have had a vital share. The daily hour of play in the open air, team games, dramatics, self-conducting schools, the play spirit or spirit of interested self-expression installed into the shops, the whole "game" of self-government—"playing square" with your fellow prisoners and with your community—all these were described as recreational ideals and methods.

NO REMEDY FOR HIGH PRICES.

What is the cause of high prices. The best answer we have seen comes from Henry Clews, in his weekly letter.

"He says:—

"Commodity prices are still rising the general level being fully 25 to 30 per cent higher than before the war. Cotton, copper, steel, oil, rubber, sugar, wheat, meats and all food products are advancing, stimulating general unrest by adding to the already high cost of living. Since the war, wheat and flour have nearly doubled; meats have risen 20 to 30 per cent and over. The British government, after taking over control of several commodities, is now regulating wheat supplies and prices. Textiles show a substantial rise since the war. Cotton goods are 25 to 100 per cent higher, linens have doubled, woollens are 50 to 70 per cent above 1914 and carpets have risen 60 to 100 per cent. Thus far these advances have been more conspicuous in the wholesale markets than among retailers. Eventually, however, they will reach the latter class and the general consumer, who will also have to pay for the increased costs of distribution arising from the scarcity and high wages of labor. This upward movement is worldwide and not by any means confined to the United States. The causes are numerous and somewhat complex, and yet nearly all of them find their primary origin in the war. First and most serious, is the shifting of millions upon millions of men from productive occupations to those of destruction. Hence the scarcity of labor and the incalculable wastage of life, property and commodities."

That there is no remedy in sight is the discouraging conclusion. Nothing can prevent even higher prices while the terrible scourge of war continues. Production is decreasing, while consumption and waste are constantly increasing. Governments may endeavor to restrain speculation with all possible energy; they may seek to prevent the unscrupulous from taking undue advantage; they may secure better distribution and somewhat mitigate the hardships of abnormal conditions; but no government is powerful enough to throttle the inevitable law of supply and demand which, owing to scarcity, now operates irresistibly in the direction of high prices.

Mr. Clews says: "Even in the commercial world the ill effects of the war are painfully illustrated, and many lessons can be learned; chief of which are the inviolability of economic law and the penalties which the whole world must suffer for the struggle now devastating the Continent of Europe."

PACKING HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS ADVANCING

Machinery for the immense pork packing section of the Ogden Packing & Provision company plant is now arriving and with rapid progress being made of the manufacturing section of the addition, officers of the company anticipate that the entire structure will be occupied early in November. One of the largest machines to arrive is the ice machine. With the refrigerator compressor and condensers this machine will have a capacity of 100 tons of ice a day.

Shipment of an immense hog de-hairing machine is expected in a few days. This piece of equipment will have a capacity of 300 head of hogs each hour, being not only capable of handling enough porkers for the new capacity of 1250 hogs a day but also of increased capacity later. When this machine is installed in connection with various conveyors, moving tables and other equipment, the hogs will not be handled by hand from the time they are placed on the sticking rail until they are in the coolers. The progress along this line of packing is especially noticeable in plans for the new plant, showing the packing house will not only be the largest in the western states but also the most modern.

The James Stewart company, which is building the plant, now has its force of workmen on the third floor of the manufacturing building. This part of the structure is to be five stories in height. Division walls are being placed in the cold storage division, the east end of the structure, while the tank house and power plant, forming the west end of the building, are already occupied.

Why Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

Few realize how many society women now wash their own hair, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. The thousands who have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only, say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthor mixture. You can enjoy this, the best that is known, for about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthor from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

Butes of the "stronger" sex alone. That statement is confirmed in the experience of Miss Lucy Branham, organizer for the National Woman's party in Ogden.

Five years ago—then a slip of a girl and still in college—Miss Branham, through a brave act in saving the lives of three persons, two men and a girl, not only won distinction for her sex, but won for herself what few other women have and that is the title of "heroine."

And Miss Branham is really a heroine. Else the Carnegie Hero commission would not have awarded her a gold medal in recognition of her courage. More than that she received a reward of one thousand dollars in coin of the realm.

Miss Branham speaks modestly of her experience. In fact she rarely speaks of it at all. She would decline then unless some person with a penchant for inquiry had presented her with incontrovertible evidence of knowledge that she was a heroine. The story is this:

A girl was drowning off the Florida coast. Two men went to her rescue. They were swept under by the strong current. The girl also was carried down by the under tow. Miss Branham is a strong swimmer. In face of disaster that had overtaken the trio, she started out to save them, if possible. A man swimmer who accompanied her could not remain on the surface. He was drowned. Almost exhausted, Miss Branham reached the point where the trio had gone down. The rescue was miraculous. Hundreds witnessed the rescue and pronounced it thrilling.
